Courses in the traditional Evening School of Theology provide theological education for lay people who want a little more than Sunday morning adult classes. Courses generally meet in the evening for two hours weekly during a ten-week period. There is an open enrollment policy for all who wish to register. Students may audit courses or take courses for credit.

The WORD, the WORLD, and the WHISPER: Recognizing God’s Creative Spark in our Lives
Ms. Lois Cesarini, Dr. Kathleen Staudt & guest lecturers, SPL 200
Thursdays 7:30-9:30 PM, 9/11-11/18
Course fee $125.00

COME EXPLORE the deep connection between biblical story, life experience, and the creative process. Guided by guest artists who engage Scripture in their work, we'll invite our own inner artist to respond to God's Word in the world. As part of that response, we'll collaborate on a final, creative class project.

Found in Translation: How Words Inform
Dr. Andrew Guffey, OTS 101
Tuesdays 7:30-9:30 PM, 10/14-11/18
Course fee $60.00

HAVE YOU EVER READ a passage of the Bible and thought, “I wonder what that word really means?” Or wondered why Bible translations vary from one version to the next? We will explore the fundamentals of translating biblical texts and learn what resources are available to people who want to study scripture in depth, but do not read Hebrew or Greek. With the right tools, what is lost in translation can still be found.

SATISFY YOUR CURIOSITY for learning the language of Scripture as Jesus heard it. Discover the deep beauty and meaning of Holy Scripture, while learning the basics of the Hebrew language in this introduction to Beginning Hebrew.
